WE wish to call the attention of Architects, Builders, and the public in general, to our Curtain Grates, which are a new departure in design and construction. They are practical and ornamental. The Curtain is hung with weights on double pulleys, which run easily, stopping at any given point, making the most effective blower, and furnishes for the summer an ornamental covering for the fire-place. The flue-damper is simple, and so arranged as to reflect heat and allow the gas to escape up the flue. The grate is made with a draft-slide, which closes the space between the grate and ash-pan, enabling one to regulate the fire as with a stove, and thus giving in effect the "English Slow Combustion" principle. It is so arranged that with a poker the ashes can readily be removed from over the dumping portion of the grate, remedying the fault often found with open dumping-grates. The frames are in good proportion, and well suited for wood mantels requiring tile, and equally desirable for slate and marble. The fire-box has a large radiating surface, affording abundance of heat. These features alone must commend them to the trade, as they are not found in any other grate of the curtain pattern. They burn hard or soft coal equally well, and fire can be kept indefinitely.

We desire to call especial attention to the "Beacon," on account of its basket or grate, the "Weaver" patent dumping and shaking attachment, which, with the curtain combination, makes one of the most perfect and practical grates ever offered the public. These grates have been thoroughly tested, and pronounced by those having them in use to be superior to all others.

"OLD FRANKLIN" TILE STOVE.

No. 357.

Width, 35 in.; height, 31 in.; Fire-opening, 24 in.

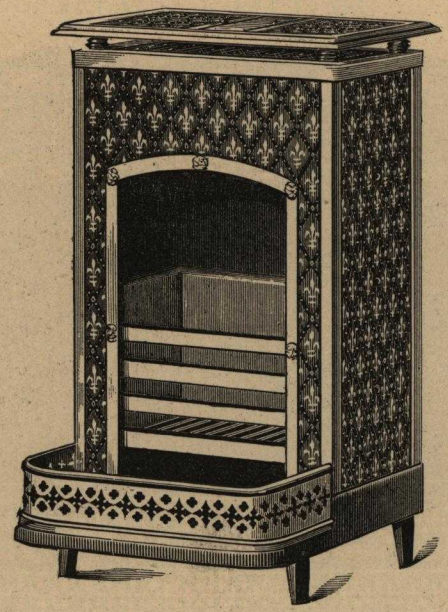
Price, including andirons and fender, $75.00

This cut is a representation of the "Old Franklin," fitted with "Trent" Tile, Brass Frame, Balls, Andirons and Fender.

ENGLISH YACHT STOVE.

The YACHT STOVE, as represented, is an English design improved.

The frame is Brass, set with Tile, having an Iron Fire-box, lined with Soapstone. Between this Fire-box and outer Casting is a Hot-Air Chamber, with an opening at top, through which the heat is radiated.



It is pronounced by those having it in use to be superior to any other in the market. It is designed especially for Yachts; but, being so ornamental, is equally desirable for dwelling-houses.

Fitted with an Adjustable Brass Sliding Blower.
